LETTER OF INVITATION

The University of Food Technologies (UFT), Plovdiv, Bulgaria, has the pleasure to invite Prof. Dr. Lawrence Idemudia Oborkhale, holder of Nigerian Passport No. B01919968, to visit the University of Food Technologies in Plovdiv, Bulgaria, during the period 7–11 September 2026.

Prof. Dr. Lawrence Idemudia Oborkhale has been officially invited to participate in the activities of the MESITA – Master of Science in Smart Farming and Internet of Things for Agriculture project, co-funded by the European Union under the Erasmus+ Capacity Building in Higher Education (CBHE) programme.

During his stay in Bulgaria, Professor Oborkhale will participate in consortium meetings, technical workshops, training activities, academic discussions related to the development, implementation, and accreditation of the new Master's program, as well as meetings with the project consortium partners.

The University of Food Technologies confirms that all expenses related to the visit, including:

- international travel;
- accommodation;
- local transportation;
- meals;
- travel insurance;
- and all other eligible project costs,

will be fully covered by the MESITA Project in accordance with the approved Erasmus+ project budget.

The visit is an official project activity and Professor Oborkhale's participation is essential for the successful implementation of the project.

We kindly request the competent authorities to facilitate the issuance of the necessary visa.

Should any additional information or supporting documentation be required, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours faithfully,

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Eng. Hafize Fidan, DSc

MESITA Project Team Leader at the University of Food Technologies – Plovdiv

Director, International Relations Office University of Food Technologies – Plovdiv
